Dave Hughes LIVE is a rare chance to glimpse Dave Hughes in his natural environment - on stage with a mic in his hand.

In his comedy DVD debut Hughesy kills, slaughters and slays the 2000 seat Thebarton Theatre in his sold-out 2006 Adelaide Fringe Festival season.

Australians want maximum value from their comedy DVD and we say "fair enough, steady on, it's going to be ok".

Hughesy has provided exactly 73 minutes of extras.

There's Backstage with Dave - an access all areas backstage tour, the Travel Doco Hughesy's Tree where we answer the questions "What sort of environment produced Dave Hughes?" and "What the hell is Cheeseworld?" and The Baton Relay - one man, one baton, 500 metres - a lot can happen.

What Hughesy has to say on the occasion of the DVD release:

"Putting out a DVD is an arduous process. It involves a lot of sacrifice by a lot of people who all deserve the greatest of praise. So praise be to them. I feel pride that my DVD will most likely sit on DVD rental shelves next to many other great DVD's, too many to name now, but rest assured they are great."

Dave Hughes is perhaps one of the most important and significant talents to have emerged from the Australian Comedy scene in the last ten years.

A natural and un-mistakably Australian comic, Dave's laconic style thinly disguises one of the fastest comic minds this country has ever seen.
